will gather a plum or two under the change. At present, it is the baskets of the "barons" of various degrees which catch all the fruit.

A very little margin over what it takes to fill the Christmas stockings in your own home will go very far when combined with offerings from other sources to give happiness to the little ones who must depend on "The Evening World" Christmas trees.

According to current reports, Rio Janeiro is affected by the cannonading in her harbor about as disastrously as New York was shaken by the salutes fired in the North River during the naval exhibition of a few months ago.

The Georgia Legislature has voted to keep women students out of the State Normal School. Wayback has apparently more than its quota of representatives in the honorable body at Atlanta.

How many more old New York buildings are in condition to collapse as those King street warehouses did, and perhaps with far less of good fortune as to the outcome of the wreck?

The 6 O'clock Edition of "The Evening World" yesterday brought the news record down to the very moment of going to press, but this is only what it does every day.

The "L" road management does not regret the famous expression used by the late W. H. Vanderbilt regarding the public, but actions speak louder than words.

If yesterday's earthquake hadn't started in Canada the high protectionists might have attributed it to the Democratic undermining of the McKinley tariff.

There should not be any doubt as to whether the Boss of Gravedigger is subject to the laws of the State of New York.

The collapse of a venerable building in King street is a reminder of the existence of inspectors who do not inspect.

It looks as if the "L" road would be obliged to take a second thought about grabbing a third track in Ninth avenue.

Directum won nobly again yesterday. Now give the king the rest and the good care he has well earned.

The best indorsement the Wilson tariff can receive is the opposition of the McKinley trusts.

What a relief to have the Tariff bill to talk about instead of Hawaii.

Reformatory Brooklyn's turkey will be highly seasoned this year.

Tariff killing is a lost industry. Tariff cutting is the work now.

Mr. Powderly's day with the Knights is apparently over.

It's a good Tariff bill for the shopping woman.

LOWELL TABLET UNVEILED.
Ambassador Bayard Delivers an Address on the Occasion.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Nov. 28.—The memorial tablet erected to the memory of the late James Russell Lowell, in the Old Chapel House of Westminster Abbey, by the subscriptions of the English admirers, was unveiled to-day with impressive ceremonies.

United States Ambassador Bayard made an address, in his course of which he said:

"I hold myself happy, indeed, to have been permitted in the Chapter House of Westminster and before an assemblage so distinguished and impressive, to be present when for the second time the name of an American is inscribed in this double sanctuary of religion and renown, containing already the bust of Lowell, and where now are unveiled the windows and tablet to the memory of James Russell Lowell, his brother poet, both from their kindred from beyond the sea."

BIG ROUND-UP OF ANARCHISTS.
One Hundred and Eighteen Now in Custody of Barcelona Police.

(By Associated Press.)
BARCELONA, Nov. 28.—The police now have 118 Anarchists in custody, charged with being concerned in the various dynamite outrages committed in Spain.

Of this number eleven Spaniards, three Italians and one Frenchman are charged with being directly responsible for the dynamite bomb outrage which caused such terrible loss of life in the Liceo Theatre.

Here is a chance for a girl, a boy and a baby to get complete outfits for Christmas.

Whoever sends with a contribution the best little letter about the Christmas Tree Fund to this office will receive an order from "The Evening World" for any suit of clothes in Best & Co's Lilliputian Bazaar, 60 and 62 West Twenty-third street, that may please his or her fancy.

Candy for a Tot.
To the Editor:
I am a little boy ten years old. I belong to the "World" New Year Club, and would like very much to belong to the Christmas Stocking Club. Please let me know how to get my candy.

Joe and Her Brother.
To the Editor:
My little brother and I send 25 cents each to the Christmas Stocking Club. We hope to make some little boy or girl happy. I am a little girl five years old, and my brother is six.

Chauncey's Earned Pennies.
To the Editor:
I feel so sorry for the poor little children who never have a Christmas tree. My papa gives me a penny every morning that I get dressed first, and I have 30 cents, which I send you for Santa Claus.

Two Little Sisters.
To the Editor:
I am a little girl five years old, with large brown eyes. I wish to make some of the poor children happy for Christmas, so I enclose 25 cents from my pocket money.

Sorry for the Poor.
To the Editor:
Please accept my $1 for the Christmas Tree Fund. I wish it was $200. I am sorry for the poor children and glad to be able to make one of them happy.

Gladys is a Sailor.
To the Editor:
I am a little girl, seven years old, and live on board a ship. I have collected $1 from all on board for your Christmas Fund. I hope it will help make the poor little children happy on Christmas day.

One Living and One Dead.
To the Editor:
I enclose $1 for the poor children, one in memory of little Winslow, our little angel in heaven and one from myself.

For a Good Cause.
To the Editor:
I enclose 50 cents for the Christmas Tree Fund to help along your good cause.

In Postage Stamps.
To the Editor:
I enclose 8 cents in postage stamps for the Christmas Tree Fund.

No Signature.
To the Editor:
Will you please use this at once and the way you think best for Julia's children.

For a Happy Christmas.
To the Editor:
I enclose 25 cents to help the poor children to a Happy Christmas.

DANIA IN GALES.
One of Her Life-Boats Smashed and Other Damage Done.

(By Associated Press.)
The steamship Dania, from Hamburg, arrived here this morning. Capt. Kuehlein reports having experienced a heavy gale, with terrific high seas last Saturday and Sunday.

Several of the big seas boarded the vessel, carrying away and smashing No. 2 port lifeboat and davits and doing other damage about the decks.

The Dania was in another gale last night on the Long Island coast, but suffered no further damage.

SHE WAS OUT IN A HURRICANE.
And Now the Ardia Company's Steamship Scuttled is Missing.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Nov. 28.—A Vienna despatch to the Standard says that the Scuttled, the largest steamer belonging to the Ardia Company, is missing. She was on her way from Gibraltar to Rouen at the time of the recent hurricane.

Kiskoros, the Hungarian Robber Chief, Shot Dead.
(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Nov. 28.—A Vienna despatch to the Standard says that the Hungarian robber chief, Kiskoros, was shot dead by gendarmes, near Mohacs, Hungary, on Saturday. His companion, Baka, was captured after a fearful struggle.

HEIRESS AND INSANE.
The Sad Story of "Sweet Maggie" Welche, a Pretty Child.

Friends Assert She Is Unjustly Kept in Bloomingdale Asylum.

An attempt is being made by the friends of little Margaret Welche to secure her release from Bloomingdale Asylum, where she has been an inmate for the past two months.

Margaret is a pretty little sixteen-year-old heiress. If she recovers her reason and lives, she will have over $50,000 in cash and as much more in real-estate.

In addition to this she is a descendant of French nobility. One grand-uncle was a Member of Greys' Cavalry.

For some time she has been attending St. Gabriel's Academy, Thirty-sixth street and Second avenue. She was regarded as one of the brightest scholars.

A few months ago she began to complain of headaches. Then she displayed symptoms of mental troubles. Dr. Allen McLane Hamilton examined her with other physicians, and upon their affidavits she was committed to Bloomingdale Asylum.

A number of her friends, however, regard her as sane, and declare their intention of securing her release. The girl lived with her stepmother on Thirtieth street, near Second avenue, and her mild, winning manners won for her the affection of all who knew her.

Her father, "Sweet Maggie" was born and educated in France. He was an officer in the French Army, but left the country under a cloud.

His cousin was a member of the same regiment, and both fell victim to the same disease. They quarreled, and the cousin was killed.

Weiche was never formally accused of causing his cousin's death, but he left the country and came to America. He had a good income, and lived in a luxurious style. The lady for whose affection he had come to America, became Mrs. Welche. She was a delicate woman, and after the birth of their only child, displayed slight symptoms of insanity.

She was a refined, cultured woman, and her husband, who was heavily upon her husband. She finally died. After her death he made a will leaving everything to his wife, Margaret.

Two years later he met the present Mrs. Welche. In point of education, refinement, culture, she stood out in bold contrast with the late Mrs. Welche. She was developed in court in later years, but she could never read nor write.

That time, the issue of this union was also a girl. Seven years ago Welche was killed on the New York Central road near High Bridge. After his death it was discovered that he had never left the country, but had made another will, depriving his widow and her child of everything.

The will was found to be a forgery, and the widow and child were restored to their inheritance. The issue of this union was also a girl.
